DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This two story frame house has a wing on the rear and a gabled wing on the front projecting towards the street. On the front of the latter wing is a two story polygonal bay window. Opposite this wing are two additional bays on the front. What appears to have originally been a one story porch across part of the front and the east side has been fully enclosed, except in front of the door.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This vernacular style house, built around the turn of the 20th century, has been altered by the addition of asphalt siding and a one story wing on the front and east, diminishing its architectural significance and contribution to the character of this streetscape.
